

ADVENTURE MICE

PHILIP REEVE

has written many books for older readers, including Mortal Engines, Railhead, and Utterly Dark & the Face of the Deep. He grew up by the sea in Brighton, England and now lives on Dartmoor with his wife and son.

SARAH MCINTYRE

also grew up near the sea, in Seattle, Washington. She has created many popular picture books including The New Neighbours, Grumpycorn, and There's A Shark In The Bath. She and her husband Stuart live in Devon, not far from Philip.

Philip and Sarah met at the Edinburgh International Book Festival in 2010 and they decided to make books together. They both think up the story, then Philip does the writing (with some help from Sarah) and Sarah draws the pictures (with some help from Philip). They like to doodle things that make them laugh, then talk through stories that make them laugh even harder. Or they dream up fantastic worlds they want to visit, and send their book characters there on adventures.

